Bachelor ACADEMIC

Domain	Branch	Specialty
Arabic Language and Literature	Arabic Literature	Literary and critical studies

configuration objective:

Training in linguistic and critical studies, according to the new orientation of the Ministry of Higher Education, aims to:

Overcoming the shortcomings of the classic system by investing the flexibility and completeness of the LMD system to form a more specialized and efficient one, taking care of two fundamental dimensions that are at the center of the entire educational process: The first dimension

It tends to provide the student with the necessary knowledge that qualifies him for an academic track of in-depth research.

As for the second axis, it is directly oriented towards training in the skills needed to break into the job market and opening up to other various activities through the language of specialization and within its cultural conditions and its cognitive identity.
